*P3a. Description: (Describe resource and its major elements. Include design, materials, condition, alterations, size, setting, and boundaries.)

This property is one of the Tamarisk Ranchos cluster of 16 single-family residences, designed by the in-house architects for developer Lou Halper's Devon Construction Company in 1958. Although each one-story house is free-standing, they share a cooperatively-owned central park and swimming pool area towards which all of the residence's rear elevations face. The cluster is located one block east of the Tamarisk Country Club golf course. Alfred Hart, the president of City National Bank and financier of Tamarisk Ranchos, was the original owner. The Hart Residence has a low-pitched front gabled roof covering approximately 1,900 interior square feet with three bedrooms and 2.5 bathrooms. Exteriors are sheathed in board-and-batten and medium-smooth stucco. Exposed roof beams project beneath deep eaves that shade most elevations, including an exterior patio north of the rear entrance. Windows are fixed, clerestory, and casement; sliding glass doors open to the rear patio. The meticulously maintained park-like grounds include vast lawns, trimmed hedges, and a grove of mature date palms. The house appears mostly original and in good condition. The property would contribute to a potential historic district that could be designated under an existing or proposed local ordinance (a "5D1" National Register Status Code).
